

Bob goes to the store, but he has no idea what he needs to buy

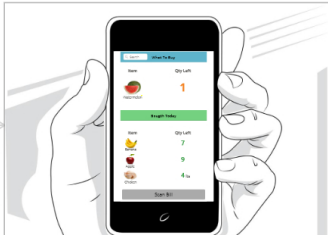

Bob opens the Fridge.me app on his phone, which tells Bob what he needs to buy

Bob can see what items he is running low on, and how much quantity is left in his fridge for each item

After Bob is done shopping, he can scan the barcode on his receipt and the Fridge.me app will store what he bought and how much he bought of each item

Fridge.me shows Bob what he bought today as well as what he still needs to buy if he wants to continue shopping

Bob walks out of the store after he bought everything he needs for food thanks to the Fridge.me app